al-‘Umayri was systematically collected and organized according to the form typology set out in Ancient Pottery of Transjordan. The Persian pottery was then compared to Iron II/Persian pottery in order to discover differences between these two periods. Results Several differences between the Iron II/Persian pottery and Persian pottery of Tall al-‘Umayri were discovered.

Drey and Storfjell, does for Transjordan what Amiran's book did for Cisjordanian pottery (today her title would never refer to the Holy Land; that sounds too theological). Their book does not share the elegance of Amiran's volume, but that is probably due more to changes in the publishing industry than in scholarship.
