Lehmann Gross Bahn (LGB) were formed in 1881 and are the largest supplier of G scale model railway products in the world. Under the ownership of Marklin since 2007, the range continues to delight large scale enthusiasts from all over the world.

LGB | Model Train Market

The scale ratio used by LGB is nominally 1:22.5, yet many dimensions are often changed to allow operation on very tight R1 curves. American prototypes especially suffer from this. Other G-scale (and Gauge 1) manufacturers produce products that range from 1:20 to 1:32, [4] and for the most part, all use the same track and are compatible with one another.
