The most common problems with a power wheelchair or mobility scooter will be related to the batteries, charging, circuit breakers, keys / switches, cables, connectors or free wheel levers. Direct battery problems occur because they're, old and can no longer hold a good charge, not that old but have been pre-maturely worn down (due to any number of reasons), or just not being fully charged.

If this does not work, check the fuel line for kinks. If there is a spark and the fuel is flowing into the filter, pull the fuel line off of carburetor and make sure that fuel is getting through the filter and into the carburetor. If it is and the engine will not start, the automatic choke could be inoperative.

I own a 50cc peace sports scooter. It is very hard to get started. It will start and go dead, and then it is very hard to get back started, like it's flooded or something. I takes the whole battery charge almost to get it back started, but once it is warmed up and running it does fine. I changed the spark plug and tested it, plenty of spark.
